READING COMPREHENSION

[16-18] Read the passage and answer the questions.

On a hill above the valley, there was a wood. In the wood, there was a huge tree. Under the tree, there was a hole. In the hole lived Mr. Fox and Mrs. Fox, and their four small foxes. Every evening as soon as it got dark, Mr. Fox would say to Mrs. Fox, "Well, my darling, what shall it be this time? A plump chicken from Boggis? A duck or a goose from Bunce? Or a nice turkey from Bean?" And when Mrs. Fox had told him what she wanted, Mr. Fox would creep down into the valley in the darkness of the night and (a) help himself. Boggis, Bunce and Bean knew very well what was going on, and it made them wild with rage. They were not men who liked to give anything away. Less still did they like anything to be stolen from them. So every night each of them would take his shotgun and hide in a dark place somewhere on his own farm, hoping to catch the robber.

16. What made Boggis, Bunce and Bean wild with rage?

- ① The Fox family lived in the wood.
- ② There were four small foxes in a hole.
- ③ Mr. Fox stole their chickens, ducks, geese.
- ④ Mr. Fox didn't want to help them.

17. What does the sentence (a) help himself mean?

- ① He helped his family.
- ② He likes to help the farmers.
- ③ He enjoyed teasing the farmers.
- ④ He stole as many of the farmers' animals as he liked.

18. What do the farmers want to do to the fox?

- ① They want to shoot him with a gun.
- ② They want to tease him.
- ③ They want to visit the fox hole.
- ④ They want to steal the fox.

[19-21] Read the passage and answer the questions.

Henry was right. My mother was really surprised. Her mouth opened when I said, "Just look at what I won at Jimmy Fargo's birthday party." I held up my tiny green turtle. "I've already named him. Dribble! Isn't that a great name for a turtle?" My mother made a face. "I don't like the way he smells," she said. "What do you mean?" I asked. I put my nose right down close to him. I didn't smell anything but turtle. So Dribble smells like turtle, I thought. Well, he's supposed to. That's what he is! "And I'm not going to take care of him either," my mother added. "Of course you're not," I told her. "He's my turtle. And I'm the one who's going to take care of him." "You're going to change his water and clean out his bowl and feed him and all of that?" she asked. "Yes," I said. "And even more. (a) I'm going to see to it that he's happy!"

19. What is the main idea of the passage?
- ① Mom doesn't like my pet turtle.
 - ② Mom asks me to take care of her pet.
 - ③ Turtles smell.
 - ④ I am going to keep my pet rabbit.
20. What is NOT TRUE according to the passage?
- ① I won the turtle at Jimmy Fargo's birthday party.
 - ② Mom doesn't like the way it smells.
 - ③ Henry gave me a surprise.
 - ④ I am going to take care of the turtle.
21. What does (a) I'm going to see to it that he's happy! mean?
- ① I'm going to make him my pet.
 - ② I'm going to take care of him.
 - ③ I'm going to make sure he is happy.
 - ④ I'm going to be happy.

[22&23] Read the passage and answer the questions.

But Mom wasn't listening to me. She said, "I think you have a good point, Sheila. I would be more relaxed with someone looking after Fudge." "Who ever heard of a wife baby-sitting her husband?" I asked. "Everyone knows this marriage thing is a joke," Sheila said. "Everyone except you, Peter!" "Yeah. What about the groom? He thinks it's for real." "Seven dollars a day," Mom said to Sheila. "Two hours in the morning and four in the afternoon. If we need you after supper, we'll pay extra." "It's a deal," Sheila said, shaking Mom's hand. Then she skipped off singing, "Heigh-ho, heigh-ho, it's off to work we go." "What about me?" I asked Mom. "What am I supposed to do while she's baby-sitting Fudge?" "Why, Peter." Mom said. "I thought you'd welcome the chance to have some time to yourself."

22. What is the main idea of this passage?
- ① Mom likes Sheila.
 - ② Sheila got a job as a babysitter.
 - ③ Sheila is Fudge's bride.
 - ④ Sheila would like to help Peter babysit Fudge.
23. How many hours is Sheila going to babysit Fudge a day?
- ① Two hours
 - ② Four hours
 - ③ Six hours
 - ④ Seven hours

[24&25] Read the passage and answer the questions.

"Well, we are all here except the rat," said Charlotte.

"I guess we can proceed without him. Now, all of you must have noticed what's been going on around here the last few days. The message I wrote in my web, praising Wilbur, has been received. The Zuckermans have fallen for it, and so has everybody else. Zuckerman thinks Wilbur is an unusual pig, and therefore he won't want to kill him and eat him. I dare say my trick will work and Wilbur's life can be saved. "Hurray!" cried everybody. "Thank you very much," said Charlotte. "Now I called this meeting in order to get suggestions. I need new ideas for the web. People are already getting sick of reading the words 'Some Pig!' If anybody can think of another message, or remark, I'll be glad to weave it into the web. Any suggestions for a new slogan?"

24. Why did Charlotte write a message in the web?

- ① She likes to write messages.
- ② She wants to save Wilbur's life.
- ③ She wants to trick the Zuckermans.
- ④ She wants the Zuckerman's attention.

25. What is the purpose of the meeting?

- ① She wants to find a way to save Wilbur's life.
- ② She wants to praise Wilbur.
- ③ She wants to get new ideas for the message in the web.
- ④ She wants to find a way to trick the Zuckermans.

[26&27] Read the passage and answer the questions.

Miss Jennifer Honey was a mild and quiet person who never raised her voice and was seldom seen to smile, but there is no doubt she possessed that rare gift for being adored by every small child under her care. She seemed to understand totally the bewilderment and fear that so often overwhelms young children who for the first time in their lives are herded into a classroom and told to obey orders. Some curious warmth that was almost tangible shone out of Miss Honey's face when she spoke to a confused and homesick newcomer to the class. Miss Trunchbull, the Headmistress, was something else altogether. She was a gigantic holy terror, a fierce tyrannical monster who frightened the life out of the pupils and teachers alike.

26. What is the main idea of the passage?

- ① Miss Honey and Miss Trunchbull
- ② Miss Honey is a great teacher.
- ③ Miss Trunchbull scares the kids in school.
- ④ Miss Honey is adored by little children.

27. Which statement BEST describes Miss Honey?

- ① She is always homesick.
- ② She is a teacher who never hits kids.
- ③ She is the headmistress.
- ④ She is a warm and kind teacher adored by little children.

[28-30]

Read the following passage and answer the questions.

Walking to school in the mornings, Charlie could see great slabs of chocolate piled up high in the shop windows, and he would stop and stare and press his nose against the glass, his mouth watering like mad. Many times a day, he would see other children taking creamy candy bars out of their pockets and munching them greedily, and that, of course, was pure torture. Only once a year, on his birthday, did Charlie Bucket ever get to taste a bit of chocolate. The whole family saved up their money for that special occasion, and when the great day arrived, Charlie was always presented with one small chocolate bar to eat all by himself. And each time he received it, on those marvelous birthday mornings, he would place it carefully in a small wooden box that he owned, and treasure it as though it were a bar of solid gold; and for the next few days, he would allow himself only to look at it, but never to touch it.

28. What is NOT TRUE according to the passage?
- ① Charlie always sees pile of chocolate in the shop on his way to school.
 - ② The whole family would save up the money to buy Charlie chocolate.
 - ③ Charlie gets his chocolate only on his birthday.
 - ④ Charlie would munch the chocolate greedily on his birthday.
29. Why is it a pure torture to see another kids eat chocolate?
- ① Because Charlie is always hungry.
 - ② Because he wants to have the chocolate but he can't.
 - ③ Because he likes chocolate so much.
 - ④ Because Charlie doesn't know how to make chocolate.
30. Why would Charlie put the chocolate in a wooden box?
- ① Because the chocolate has a golden ticket.
 - ② Because he likes to look at it.
 - ③ Because he thinks it is expensive.
 - ④ Because it is too precious to eat.

[31-33] Read the passage and answer the questions.

A microchip is a small electrical device about the size of a grain of rice. It can be enclosed in glass and placed inside the body, just under the skin. As you probably know, veterinarians have used microchip implants for several years to help owners locate their lost pets. A vet can use a special scanner to see if a stray pet has an implant that provides information about how to find the pet's owner. Scientists have been creating microchip devices for humans, too. Many of them serve medical needs. For example, in 1999, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) came up with the idea of an implant that delivers medicine. It is the size of a dime and contains 1,000 tiny pools. Each one contains a dose of medicine, which, at timed intervals, the chip releases into the patient's bloodstream. As a result, the patient with this chip will never have to remember to take his or her pills again! Scientists reported in 2002 that they had developed a microchip that monitors health information from inside the body. It sends signals to a receiver outside the body if conditions change. For example, blood pressure in certain organs may drop, blood clots may form, or arteries may suddenly become blocked.

31. Which one of the following is NOT a use of microchip implants?
- ① It helps vets to find lost pets.
 - ② It helps people take medicine at timed intervals.
 - ③ It helps old people in emergency cases.
 - ④ It monitors health information.
32. What do the medical implants created in 1999 and in 2002 have in common?
- ① They both serve medical needs.
 - ② They both give doses of medicine.
 - ③ They both help find lost pets.
 - ④ They both are very expensive devices.
33. What do you think is the writer's opinion about implanting a microchip inside a human or animal's body?
- ① The writer is against the idea.
 - ② The writer thinks it's efficient and useful.
 - ③ The writer thinks it's controversial.
 - ④ The writer thinks it's helpful only for animals.
